Theodore court case appeal decision

On March 25, 2020, the Saskatchewan Court of Appeal ruled in favour of the appeal of the Theodore case in a unanimous decision. This decision overturns the 2017 ruling that sought to restrict public funding for students who choose to attend Catholic schools in Saskatchewan but lack a Catholic baptismal certificate.

An update from Board of Education Chair Derek Hassen was sent to parents/guardians on March 25. If you did not receive this information, please contact the office.
